My secret life in the country

Small wonders

If you don't want to take over an entire estate, here are other options, which are just as private...

Rhino House, Sand Rivers Selous, Tanzania

New romantic pole-and-thatch hideaway for two with an open front over the biggest game reserve in Africa. Visit africatravel.co.uk.

360, Shompole, Great Rift Valley, Kenya

The most stunning, organically designed lodge in Africa opens the new separate 360 as we write. Visit scottdunn.com.

Elsa's Kopje Private House, Meru National Park, Kenya

Whitewashed, open-fronted thatched cottage scattered with Zanzibar finds and with views of vast open plains. Visit africatravel.co.uk.

The Oi Seki Suites, Oi Seki, Masai Mara, Kenya

Friendly camp famous for its good guiding, great food and utterly chilled-out atmosphere. Visit cazenoveandloyd.com.

Koro Lodge, Bushmans Kloof, Cederberg Mountains, South Africa

Farmhouse converted into a slick contemporary space ideal for those not totally at ease with the bush. Visit africatravel.co.uk.

Loisaba House, Laikipia, Kenya

The greatest buzz here is that the views are so massive you can see the horizon bending away from you. Visit africatravel.co.uk.

The Villa, Sasakwa Lodge, Grumeti Reserve, Tanzania

Billionaire Paul Tudor Jones's own off-the-radar Serengeti hideaway. Visit africatravel.co.uk.

The Villa, Singita Pamushana, Malilangwe, Zimbabwe

Part of Tudor Jones's lesser-known Zimbabwean pad – perfect for the 21st-century family. Visit africatravel.co.uk.

Villa Mushara, Etosha, Namibia

Two contemporary cottages, incredibly smart, utterly handsome. Visit africatravel.co.uk.

Little Mombo, Moremi, Botswana

A proper old-fashioned bush camp in the beautiful Okavango with fantastic game (lots of lion). Visit africatravel.co.uk.
